RNA PADDOCK TO PALATE COMPETITION 2018

$46,000 IN PRIZE MONEY!

Australia's richest beef supply competition

The RNA Beef Committee is pleased to advise entries are now open for the 2018 RNA Paddock to Palate Competition presented by Mort & Co. Held in conjunction with the 2018 Royal Queensland Show (Ekka), the competition offers a prize pool of $46,000 across various categories.

Now in its 21st year, 2018 will once again see the competition begin with the feedlot phase being conducted at one of Australia's largest and most modern feedlots, Mort & Co's Grassdale Feedlot at Dalby.

Recognised as the beef supply chain competition to enter, the competition entices leading end product and customer focused beef producers to accept the challenge that this event poses. Entry numbers will be capped so competitors are advised to get their entries in early.

Breed Societies will be eager to promote this competition amongst members and put their breed promotional and marketing spiels to the test in this encompassing feed chain competition.

The Paddock to Palate Competition is three phased:

- 1st Phase Class 37 - 100 Day Feedlot Competition and Class 38 - 70 Day Feedlot Competition; for best aggregate weight gain for a pen of six steers
- 2nd Phase Carcass Competition for best aggregate pen
- 3rd Phase MSA Eating Quality Competition, where MSA grading models predict eating quality of 40 muscles by 6 different methods

WEIGHT GAIN COMPETITION

The RNA recognises Mort & Co for their assistance in the Paddock to Palate Competition and the conduct of the weight-gain competition at the Grassdale Feedlot Dalby.
